

Workplace Motivators

See the world through others' eyes

What is Workplace Motivators?

How can the right people be placed into the right jobs and be motivated to achieve more for the organisation? The answer to this question can be found in one's values. The Workplace Motivators provides the ability to determine if a position will be rewarding, based on the values a person has.

The Workplace Motivators instrument has been designed to measure people's motivators, drivers and values. It is used in personal and professional settings to develop a better understanding of the lenses through which we all view the world.

Based on the responses to an online questionnaire, a completely personalised and unique report is immediately generated. These highly validated reports are used by coaches, trainers, consultants, recruiters and managers in the hiring, development and retention of talented staff.

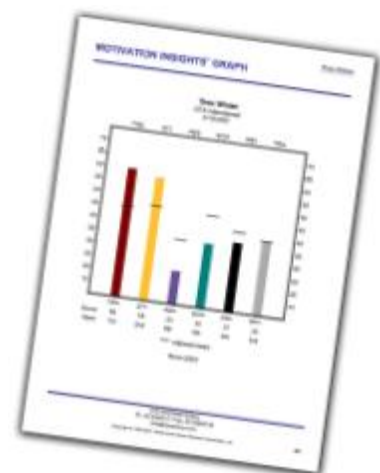

Just think of all the advantages in knowing what motivates an employee right from the start, rather than waiting for time to tell!
